Fight Human Trafficking

The beast that is human trafficking does not discriminate when taking people captive. While women are frequently trapped in sex trafficking rings, men are also subjected to the horrors of labor trafficking, and all are left traumatized by the abuse and dehumanization of their experiences. Survivors and advocates of anti-trafficking work are in desperate need of your prayers. Here are 20 ways to combat the horrors of trafficking through prayer.

PRAY FOR:

Survivors

- Physical, emotional and spiritual healing from the trauma they have incurred
- Established safe homes and people for them to trust with their recovery journeys
- Salvation for them and their families, some of whom may have been perpetrators

Advocates

- The resilience to ward off the compassion fatigue that comes with trauma work
- Favor with international and national government officials
- Sufficient resources to maintain their life-changing ministries

Traffickers

- The rapid discovery and immediate prosecution of trafficking rings
- The dismantling of criminal organizations and online networks that rely on abuse
- Their personal conviction, repentance, salvation and restoration

Churches & Nonprofit Organizations

- Awareness of warning signs to spread both nationally and internationally
- The development of prayer warriors and programs to advocate for survivors
- Financial funding to continue developing strategies to combat trafficking

"Blessed are those whose help is the God of Jacob, whose hope is in the Lord their God. He is the Maker of heaven and earth, the sea, and everything in them—he remains faithful forever. He upholds the cause of the oppressed and gives food to the hungry. The Lord sets prisoners free." (Psalm 146:5-7, NIV)
